Beautiful Fighter

Domestic violence survivors are strong, courageous, beautiful women, who have been through the most terrifying situations. Yet, they come out as incredible fighters. They are amazing and brave that it is hard to imagine. To step forward, speak up against the violence, and stop the abuse.
Columbia College is "the school with heart". We want to show these women, how amazing, beautiful and strong they are, to be fighters. This is a day dedicated to them and their future.
